

The Sixth SICET Annual International Convention

Oct. 26-30, 2010 Anaheim, California

The Sixth SICET Annual International Convention was successfully held as part of 2010 AECT International Convention “Cyber Change: Learning in Our Connected World”, on October 26-30, 2010 in Hyatt Regency Orange County, Anaheim, California. At its annual convention, SICET sponsors three keynote speeches, two general sessions, and twelve concurrent presentations. About twenty Chinese scholars from US, China, and Taiwan took part in the SICET Lunch/Outing on Thursday.

The three keynote speakers are: Dr Simon So, a faculty member in Information Technology at the Hong Kong Institute of Education, Dr. Geping Liu, Professor and Associate Dean at Southwest University, China and Dr. Xibin Han, the Associate Dean of Institute of Education at Tsinghua University. In their keynote speeches, Dr. So presented on the pedagogical and technological considerations of mobile learning; Dr. Han, analyzed the isolated operation of learning management systems in Chinese universities and proposed a comprehensive plan of integrating pedagogical model and software architecture in E-learning environments; Dr. Liu, via Skype introduced the E-learning in higher education in China.

The concurrent presentations include various topics related to technology integration, online learning, media-based and mobile learning, Web 2.0 and Second Life. The international touch of SICET is reflected in presentations that explore and research on the use of emerging technologies such as cross-cultural online learning and Second Life in learning English as a Second Language.

The general session reported the progress achieved last year, discussed the plan for next year and presented the “Best Presentation Award” and “Best Student Presenter Award”. In addition, the session was concluded with recognitions to the excellent services to SICET officers by Dr. Shuyan Wang. On behalf of SICET, Dr. Tina Wu also presented the Appreciation to Dr. Shuyan Wang for her excellent leadership in the past as SICET president and to Dr. Xiaoxue Wang for his excellent service as Director of Research and Public Relations. During the board meeting, the past president, Dr. Shuyan Wang, introduced SICET traditions including board member’s commitment and responsibilities for SICET. The new president, Dr. Tina Wu, appointed new board members and officers and led the discussion on various topics regarding the future plan.
